Screeching Halt Humidifier

The D'Addario Screeching Halt Humidifier allows you to humidify your guitar's body and neck joint, even in the driest conditions—while on display, or during extended periods when your instrument will be outside its case. The humidifier releases moisture slowly and evenly while capturing the vapor inside the body of the instrument to retain the proper humidity level. Maintaining the humidifier is as simple as moistening the sponge when the humidity falls below a safe level (40-60% Relative Humidity). The Screeching Halt Humidifier can also be used as a feedback reducer when playing live, keeping your guitar properly humidified even during performances.

- Doubles as a feedback reducer and humidifier
- Let's the owner humidify the guitar outside of a guitar case.
- Comes with Hydrophilic sponge that holds 12x its weight in water

DIY Solderless Pedalboard Power Cable Kit

The D'Addario DIY Solderless Pedalboard Power Cable Kit is the ultimate solution for custom wiring the DC cables of your pedalboard. Common power supplies come with pre-made cables that lead to excess wire and clutter on your pedalboard. The D'Addario cable kits are as simple as cutting the included cable to length, placing the cable into the plug end, and securing the set screw to produce flawless, perfect length cables. This proprietary cable has 3 times the amount of copper over standard cables for superior voltage transfer and reliability, and the plugs configure for straight or right-angle connections. The DIY Pedalboard Power Cable Kit comes complete with a cable tester to easily check the cables for proper connection before installation. Make your pedalboard the neatest it can be with D'Addario DIY Cable Kits.

- Solderless plugs connect to cable in seconds, creating custom lengths easily.
 - Makes up to 6 cables
- Plugs configure for straight or right-angle connections
- Comes with:
 - 12 plugs
 - 20' of cable
 - Mini cable cutter

IEC Power Line

Newly added to the cable offering, the D'Addario Premium Power Cables are designed to take the toughest treatment and performance schedules possible. Built with 12AWG conductors, these cables feature 100% more copper over standard 18AWG cables supplied with most amplifiers. The larger conductor size prohibits any possible current degradation of inferior cables, while the 10ft length allows you to reach most outlets without the need for extension cords or power strips.

In addition to the standard power cable, we also have the power cable+ which has an integrated accessory outlet. Now you have an extra outlet on the stage which is perfect for mobile devices, pedal boards, and other electronics used in gigging situations.

Lastly, we have the IEC to standard plug adapter. Did you ever get to your rehearsal or show only to realize you left your power cable at home? Every musician has been there. The D'Addario IEC adaptor saves the day by allowing you to convert any standard extension cord into an IEC power cable. With its compact size, it's an essential gig bag item!

The adapter and cables are available in NEMA, F, and G plug styles (NEMA shown below).
